EXPERIENCE

YAHOO

Customer Education Manager | 2021 – Present

As Customer Education Manager at Yahoo, I support the development of the company's online B2B customer education program and lead the broader customer onboarding strategy within the Customer Success organization.

AMOBEE

Senior Product Training Manager | 2020 – 2021

Amobee is a global marketing technology company focused on cross-channel media buying. In the Senior Product Training Manager role I designed and managed Amobee U, an online customer education program for Amobee's thousands of active users. In this role, which belonged to Amobee's Product Management team, I led a pod of engineers, product managers, and account managers to deliver both scaled and customized product training to achieve measurable business outcomes for Amobee and its clients.

INTERPUBLIC GROUP (IPG)

Senior Instructional Designer | 2017 – 2020

IPG is a global parent company to various marketing agencies, media/planning services, tech providers, and more. As Senior Instructional Designer for IPG's Data and Technology business, Kinesso, I developed learning experiences for the company's wide range of agencies and customers, producing learning experiences in multiple formats on various topics related to data science and marketing tech.

MEDIAMATH

Manager, Training and Instructional Design | 2017

Specialist, Training and Certification | 2015 – 2017

In my roles on the Marketing team at MediaMath, a global advertising tech company, I led internal and external product training for North America, designing and delivering instructor-led training (in-person and remote) and certification to 100+ learners monthly.
